

Weirdos

Tom MacDonald

My life been a storm
I don't need no lighthouse
They all fucked with me before
Used to be my dogs, but they bite now

Life is hella short
The party always dies down
When the cops are at your door
And you ain't with the right crowd (Ay-ay)
Life is like a war, rotten to the core
Praying to the Lord, save me from the sword
Life is like a sport, I ain't keeping score
If I was, I'm pretty sure, I'd need an award
Put the haters in the morgue
Remind 'em this is my town
Pedal to the floor
Hanging out the windows 'til we wipe out

We ain't fucking with you, weirdos
Telling lies and we hear those
Getting louder but your tears show
Should be your motherfucking heroes
We ain't fucking with you, weirdos
Telling lies and we hear those
Getting louder but your tears show
Should be your motherfucking heroes

Life is super hard
I see you dealing with the messy
Middle fingers like my heart
They gon' after those who test me, yeah

Life is a trip, we all fall down
Reach for the stars, can't see the ground

Touching the sky when I'm surfing the crowd
They wanna the smoke but can't handle the loud
Used to be my bro
Now when you go, people text me
It's bad for your health
You can't count on the blessings, yeah
People get stupid when money get dumb
Want me to be sorry for who I've become

We ain't fucking with you, weirdos
Telling lies and we hear those
Getting louder but your tears show
Should be your motherfucking heroes
We ain't fucking with you, weirdos
Telling lies and we hear those
Getting louder but your tears show
Should be your motherfucking heroes

All the tears I cried turned the eyes, now I see
Y'all made me wanna die, now I'm famous and you like me
It's funny how that happens now
I bet it's real frightening

To spit your life wanting mine
All thunder, no lightning

It's funny we ain't fucking with you, weirdos
Telling lies and we hear those
Getting louder but your tears show
Should be your motherfucking heroes

We ain't fucking with you, weirdos
Telling lies and we hear those
Getting louder but your tears show
Should be your motherfucking heroes
