

You

Tom MacDonald

I got a crystal for every problem
I got a pill for every mood
I got a quote for every hard time
But none of those things will do
I need you
Yeah, I need you

I got a tea to cleanse my chakras
For the long nights I got booze
I've got a mantra for the hard days
But none of those things will do
I need you
If they talkin' while I shoot
You're the ink in my tattoo
All the haters goin' boo-hoo-hoo-hoo-hoo, ooh

I got a crystal for every problem
I've got a pill for every mood
I've got a quote for every hard time
But none of those things will do
I need you
I've got a crystal for every problem
I've got a pill for every mood
(Yeah, I need you)
I've got a quote for every hard time
But none of those things will do

Got a plunder, you're my spirit
I got a ring that knows my mood
I got a horoscope with guidance
But none of those things will do
I need you
You're my homie, you're my crew
You're my sunshine when I'm blue
And I love you to the moon, 'oon

I got a crystal for every problem
I've got a pill for every mood
I've got a quote for every hard time
But none of those things will do
I need you
I've got a crystal for every problem
I've got a pill for every mood
(Yeah, I need you)
I've got a quote for every hard time
But none of those things will do

Ride or die, it's you and I until the end of time
I'll be yours, you'll be mine, set the world on fire
Don't you cry, dry your eyes, we gon' be alright
If it's war we ride tonight, baby you're a fire

I got a crystal for every problem
I've got a pill for every mood
I've got a quote for every hard time
But none of those things will do
I need you

I've got a crystal for every problem
I've got a pill for every mood
(Yeah, I need you)
I've got a quote for every hard time
But none of those things will do
