

Somebody Else

Tom Odell

I'm walking down the road
Saw you driving past
In somebody else's car

I'm thinking to myself
I bet you're probably breaking
Somebody else's heart

Blow a kiss
I am happy that you exist
Feel that light-headed feeling
That I've missed
Oh, I've missed

I wonder where you are
You're probably waking up
In somebody else's arms

We tried to make it work
But all you really needed
Was somebody else's love

Shut my eyes
And I call your name, you reply
That your heart will heal
It just needs time (Need some time)
Just need time (Oh, it needs some time)
