

Together

Tom Paxton

Who'd a thunk it, you and I?
Can't explain it, don't know why
Counting all the years gone by
Together
Two old lovers in two old chairs
Not too fond of flights of stairs
Still, we've handled all our cares
Together

Forever was the vow we made so long ago
And now, with more than just a little smile we say
"We told you so"

The early days were kind of tough
Even when things felt too rough
We knew that we were each enough
Together
Here we are, still holding hands
Young folks just don't understand
This is what we always planned
Together

Forever was the vow we made so long ago
And now, with more than just a little smile we say
"We told you so"

We hope for just a little more
But no one knows what lies in store
I know we can't go through that door
Together
So, each night 'fore I go to sleep
I feel the love, so long, so deep
For we have promises to keep
Together

Forever was the vow we made so long ago
And now, with more than just a little smile we say
Forever was the vow we made so long ago
And now, with more than just a little smile we say
"We told you so"