

Those Days

Tom Robinson

There's thunder on the Baltic
Radiation on the rain
Uncertainty and mayhem in the wind again

Ever since I left you I've been stranded on the tide
Just another hundred miles now
Till I'm by your side

Those happy days we used to spend
Do you remember the time of year
(It feels like)
Those happy days are here again
Those happy days are here

Now the days are getting colder
And the nights are drawing in Floodwater rising as the waves roll in
Out across the Alster I can see the lights
Hold out a little longer
I'll be home tonight

Those happy days we used to spend
Do you remember the time of year
(It feels like)
Those happy days are here again
Those happy days are here
