

Cool

Tom Rosenthal

You and I are gonna be cool

It's hard to be a lover
And a painter
And a thief
And the cat says there's no food in her bowl

It's hard to be a winter
When the spring don't wanna come
And the winds blow the clouds
Right between us and the sun

But you and I are gonna be cool

It's hard to be a feather
And a fixer
And a face
And the man says the boiler needs to go

It's hard be a mountain
When the baby does not sleep
And it's rough to be a reveller
With a paper 'round to keep

But you and I are gonna be cool
You and I are gonna be cool
I'll bring you a tea in the morning

It's hard to be an atom
To small to see the light
And moon keeps me up
And the body feels the fight
But you and I are gonna be cool
