

Oh, Alice
It's been a week or two since I heard from you
And I can last
I see your eyes when I close mine
And I remember the touch of your skin
Pullin' me closer within
Oh, Alice

I've got a heart that's keepin' me up late
I've got a heart that can't catch a break

And if you want me I'll be in a different bar
If you need me I'll be a mile too far
And I won't pick up when you call
Stay up till the early hours
And I won't be there when you fall
'Cause you're not mine, no, you're not mine, are you?

Oh, Alice
You used to call me when you were feelin' low
And that's alright
But ever since you turned your back to go
I remember when you left me alone
In a panic in the eye of a storm
Oh, Alice

I've got a heart that's keepin' me up late
I've got a heart that can't catch a break

And if you want me I'll be in a different bar
If you need me I'll be a mile too far
And I won't pick up when you call
Stay up till the early hours
And I won't be there when you fall
'Cause you're not mine, no, you're not mine, are you?

If you want me I'll be in a different bar
And if you need me I'll be a mile too far
And I won't pick up when you call
Stay up till the early hours
And I won't be there when you fall
'Cause you're not mine, no, you're not mine, are you?

Are you?
Are you?
