

Evermore

Tom Speight

There's a place for you in my mind
There was a time when you were mine
Oh, the shadows you left behind
Forever, evermore

There's a passport on the side
Between the dreams and the magazines
Oh, the cities we've never seen
Forever, evermore

I think of you at 2AM
Got nothin' left by half-past ten
I play the songs that were always on
I can't sing along, now you're gone
Forever, evermore

Maybe, maybe there was more I could ahve done
Maybe, maybe is not good enough
All our stuff left to rust
Forever, evermore

I think of you at 2AM
Got nothin' left by half-past ten
I play the songs were always on
I can't sing along, now you're gone
Forever, evermore

(Ohh-ohh-ohh, the sun's about to rise up)
(Ohh-ohh-ohh, the sun's about to rise up)
And we're never comin' back, no, we're never comin' back
(Ohh-ohh-ohh, the sun's about to rise up)
And we're never comin' back, no, we're never comin' back
(Ohh-ohh-ohh, the sun's about to rise up)
Never comin' back, no, we're never comin' back

The sun's about to rise up (Ooh-ooh)
The sun's about to rise up (Ooh-ooh)
The sun's about to rise up (Ooh-ooh)
The sun's about to rise up (Ooh-ooh)
