

Love

Tom Speight

When the load gets heavy
And you feel like you got to face this big old empty world alone
You know you can call me
I'll be here to guide you, a voice that sounds familiar down the phone

All you need to face the day is someone by your side
You don't need no fancy house, no one's gonna care which car you drive
You need love, love, love to feel alive

When the day is over
And you need someone there who can hold you when you're walking through the door
Cause you know I'll come running
When I'm here you don't have to feel that you'll be lonely anymore

All you need to face the day is someone by your side
You don't need no fancy house, no one's gonna care which car you drive
You need love, love, love to feel alive
You need love, love, love to feel alive

I got love (love, love)
More than you ever need
I got love (love, love)
More than you ever need

I got love (love, love)
More than you ever need
I got love (love, love)
More than you ever need
I got love (love, love)
More than you ever need
