

See You Soon

Tom Speight

Down a telephone line
Through the window of your eyes
When all you need is home
I'll see you, I'll see you soon

Through your camera phone
Beamed through satellites
When all you need's inside
I'll see you, I'll see you soon

The light in the sky
Shines on the silver moon
We talk the same way just like we used to
I'll see you, I'll see you soon

In the walk on Bowery road
Down the silent radio
When all you needs the truth
I'll see you, I'll see you soon

The light in the sky
Shines on the silver moon
We talk the same way just like we used to
I'll see you, I'll see you soon

I'll see you, I'll see you soon
I'll see you, I'll see you soon
