

Waiting

Tom Speight

Come and take my hand and travel the world
Come and fill my heart and rip it apart
And if you close your eyes, wake up to a different sky
Oh, come on

Come and drag my heels to the thick and the thin
Come and stand by me and let the future begin
So take me higher, high enough to see the stars
Oh, come on

I'm not waiting for you
You'll be in my rear view
I'm not waiting anymore
What are you waiting for?

Remember the time when you weren't afraid
To open you heart and give it away
But if you close your eyes
Wake up to a different sky
Oh, come on

I'm not waiting for you
You'll be in my rear view
I'm not waiting anymore
What are you waiting for?

I'm not waiting for you
You'll be in my rear view
I'm not waiting anymore
What are you waiting for?
What are you waiting for?

Come and take my hand and travel the world
