

Prayer

Tom Verlaine

Well, I love to watch you
Move from night to day.
You're a rainbow, darling, a special kind
That never fades.
Well I could picture this and
I could picture that.
But what I see before me darling,
No kind of camera will ever catch.

All the love I gather.
All the love you gather.
All the love we gather in our hearts.
All the love I gather.
All the love you gather.
All the love we gather in our hearts.

There are brighter shades,
And much deeper hues.
And they're in the light,
Of the sweetest honeymoon.

Seems to me, it could be
Much more than what it should be.
By any old opinion I have of you,
Or any old design,
That pops up in the mind,
There's always so much more, and it's so new.
