

Heartland

Tom Walker

Stick out your tongue, let me take your temperature
If you ain't having no fun, must be something wrong with ya
Let me take your fingerprints, pay your way and now you're in
And better seal your lips so that'll be the end of ya

Come and find your love at the heartland (heartland)
Ain't not them you're looking for
You've had enough but you wanted more
Come and lose yourself at the heartland (heartland)
You'll forget who you were before
Give it up, you can have it all
In the heartland

Hand yourself in 'cause you're goddamn ready to
It's a happy ending, no one leaves it feeling blue
Let's take a ride on the Ferris wheel
Short on cash, we can make a deal
We got everything you want
We can make your dreams come true

Come and find your love at the heartland (heartland)
Ain't not them you're looking for
You've had enough but you wanted more
Come and lose yourself at the heartland (heartland)
You'll forget who you were before
Give it up, you can have it all in the heartland

'Cause when you're lost in the dark night
No need to feel so low
Tired of being alone
Twenty-four-seven all the way
Why are you standing in the cold
Here's a place you wanna go

Come and find your love at the heartland (heartland)
Ain't not them you're looking for
You've had enough but you wanted more
Come and lose yourself at the heartland (heartland)
You'll forget who you were before
Give it up, you can have it all in the heartland

(Heartland)

Come and lose yourself at the heartland (heartland)
You'll forget who you were before
Give it up, you can have it all in the (heartland)
