

SOS

Tom Walker

When I called on the phone, emotion took over
My voice kinda cracked like the leaves in October
The waters they poured like when Carl loses Ellie
Except this ain't a movie, starred up on the tele
You asked me what's wrong and I paused for a moment
The silence was deafening, fear it took over
Explain the situation and the past days transpired
First words an ember but now it's a fire
I'm sending a signal to you

It's an SOS
Save our souls, I'm losing faith
Losing hope I need some therapy from friends that know the better me
Save our souls
Save our souls
It's an SOS
Take me home, I've lost my way
I can't cope, I need some therapy from friends that know the better me
Save our souls
Save our souls

And you dropped the whole world
And drove down from Bristol
In the flesh you were here like a round loaded pistol
I'm not a man of God, still my prayers weren't forgotten
'Cause friends you would die for don't come around often
You walked through the door
I burst into tears
And raised like two brothers, my worries, my troubles
Faded away as I poured us a cider
When I needed you most, you were right there beside us
I sent a signal to you

It's an SOS
Save our souls, I'm losing faith
Losing hope, I need some therapy from friends that know the better me
Save our souls
Save our souls
It's an SOS
Take me home, I've lost my way
And I can't cope, I need some therapy from friends that know the better me
Save our souls
Save our souls

In my moment of need you came running
And I slept for the first time in days
I was right on the edge, an emotional wreck
I just needed a friend when you say
Save our souls
Yeah, whatever it takes we'll get through this
Save our souls
Oh and no matter, what you'll be fine
Save our souls
Don't you worry my brother, I'm right here beside you tonight

It's an SOS
Save our souls, I'm losing faith

Losing hope, I need some therapy from friends that know the better me
It's an SOS
Take me home, I've lost my way
I can't cope, I need some therapy from friends that know the better me
And then I sent out a signal to you
