

Hero

Tommee Profitt

There's a fire in the city
Panic in the air
Far from your mother's arms
With a heart full of fear

You see the black clouds twistin'
The sun's going down
And every last savior has left the town
And I know you're searching for a little bit of light

Let me be your hero
Let me be your hero

Now the white moon is rising
Blood flowing through the streets
Everyone's hiding
You're down on your knees

Now the vulture's are flying
The sun's coming up
But the steel around your heart is starting to rust

Let me be your hero
(I'll carry you through)
Let me be your hero
(I'll lay it all down for you)

Let me be your hero
(I'll carry you through)
Let me be your hero
(I'll lay it all down for you)

Let me be your hero
Let me be your hero

Let me be your hero
