

Remembrance

Tommee Profitt

Sure as stone on mountaintop
True as bird in sky
You're the needle pointed north
When I'm lost in the fight

So if you call in the night
If you cry, cry
If you call my name
I will fly, fly to your side
'Cause you're the place I need to find
To remember the light

Like a page with a golden word
Puts my heart to the test
I'm a weary traveler
You're my heavenly rest

So if you call in the night
If you cry, cry
If you call my name
I will fly, fly to your side
'Cause you're the place I need to find
To remember the light

To remember, to remember

'Cause you're the place I need to find
To remember the light
