

Rescue

Tommee Profitt

If your building is burning
I'll be the fire escape
If your rooms full of smoke
And you're starting to choke
I'm the mask on your face

If your windows are locked
I'll be the brick that'll break it away
You're all that I got
To save your life
I would race to my grave

When the weight on your shoulders
Grows from a rock to a boulder
I am one man but I'll stand like an army of soldiers
I'll be the gun in your holster

I'll be the shield
That blocks every sword
I'll be the steal
The fires will forge

To bring you peace
I'll will go in to war
Ain't afraid of the rain
I trained in a storm

I'll run to your rescue

When it all comes down
When it starts to fall
Like an avalanche
I will be your wall

I will hold you up
Go against them all
When it all comes down
I'll be standing tall

I'll run to your rescue

If you're feeling surrounded
And the sound of your heart
Pounds in your head

If your hands start to shake
And there's sweat on your face
And you're tasting adrenaline

When the world that's around you
Comes crashing down on you
And the grounds sinking in

I'll be the spark
The light in the dark
Fast as a flash
I'll come runnin in

If you're in danger
And your ship drifts
I'm your anchor
I told you I'd save ya

There's no need to be afraid
Sworn I was born for this
Fighting wave after wave

And the storm keeps on coming
I don't fear when I hear the war drumming
It gets near
And my pulse, it starts pumping
It's My heart ain't bleeding for nothing

I'll set you free
When you're locked in a cell
I'll find you heaven
When you're lost in hell

I'm your Guardian angel
A part of you's tangled
Got stripes from the war
That you wear like a bangle

Walk thru the jungle
Don't worry about trouble
I got the force
Surround me in the bubble

I'll jump in the rumble
I'm ready to kill em
When everyone wears a mask
Who's the real villain
