

Let Me

Tommy Lefroy

Sometimes you say something excited with a smile
It splits me open with a spade and there's no trial
I'm just lying in a pile in the garden till I'm gone
You didn't do anything wrong, you didn't do anything wrong

No, you didn't do anything wrong

Just let me let this go
Just let me let this go
Just let me let this go
Just let me

I tried to be the place you run to 'cause I loved you
Your calamity became me, you thought nothing was worth saving
But I was fighting for the last air left inside the car
When you said that loving me is hard, not just how it is or who we are, no

I was hard, was I?
I was hard, was I?
I was hard to know

Just let me let this go
Just let me let this go
Just let me let this go
Just let me

Benefactions and collateral damage
Generational forfeit
Being the one not to say it, I won't say it
You won't say it, no one says a thing

No, you didn't do anything
No, you didn't do anything

Just let me let this go
Just let me let this go
Just let me let this go
Just let me

The thing is anything could happen
(No, you didn't do anything)
Haven't you heard that? Anything could happen
(No, you didn't do anything)
The thing is anything could happen
(No, you didn't do anything)
No, you didn't do anything)
Anything

Are you back in London?
The least you could do is let me know
Or let me let this go
