

Eyes Don't Lie

Tones And I

Eyes don't lie
Eyes don't lie
Eyes don't lie

Heard you tried to sell your soul to another
Heard you tried to dance around with flames are made from angels undercover
But I see the way your face just changed as if you lost a lover
Did you lose a lover, oh

And I know the story goes you say you really tried you didn't try at all
So now you hate the world it hates you back is your excuse to fall
You say you're dead inside so you decide to cut off everyone
Cut off everyone

Are you a stranger
But you seem so familiar
It's hard to explain ya
From what I can see, from what I can see
And maybe I'm broken
But my arms are wide open for ya
And you'll never know it
But you're just like me
From what I can see

Heard you try to place the blame on your brother
Heard it's everybody else's fault you're home alone inside this summer
Now you can't deny the times you lied and cried you missed your mother
Cried you missed your mother, oh

And I know the story goes you say you really tried you didn't try at all
So now you hate the world it hates you back is your excuse to fall
You say you're dead inside so you decide to cut off everyone
Cut off everyone

Are you a stranger
But you seem so familiar
It's hard to explain ya
From what I can see, from what I can see
And maybe I'm broken
But my arms are wide open for ya
And you'll never know it
But you're just like me
From what I can see

Eyes don't lie
Eyes don't lie
Eyes don't lie
Eyes don't lie

Are you a stranger
But you seem so familiar
It's hard to explain ya
From what I can see, from what I can see
And maybe I'm broken
But my arms are wide open for ya

From what I can see

Eyes don't lie
