Westside Lobby

Tones And I

I'm so sick of people telling me I'm special
And I'm so sick of people telling me I'm kind
And I know they're not really being honest
Because honestly, I'm not that fucking nice

And I'm so sick of people thinking that I'm lovely (Yep, yep)
A little wholesome, happy girl that did it right (Yep, yep)
See, you all seem to think at night I go to bed and cry (Yep)
But honestly, I'm not that fucking nice (Yep, yep)

Take me to the Westside Lobby, far away
Where I can do what I want, and I can say what I want to say
Take me to the Westside Lobby, that's where I want to go
Where I can do what I want, and it's the only place I know
Take me to the Westside Lobby, far away
Where I can do what I want, and I can say what I want to say
Take me to the Westside Lobby, that's where I want to go
Where I can do what I want, and it's the only place I know

And I'm so bored of people starting conversations
The ones that never would have started them before
People saying that they know me, we met once when I was four Well I'm sorry, but I don't know you at all (Not that fucking nice)

And I'm so over people saying I don't look right (Yep, yep)
There's no place for you in music's all I hear (Yep, yep)
But my song went number one in over thirty fucking countries (Yep, ye p)
And I'm sorry if that offends you, my dear, ha-ha (Yep, yep)

Take me to the Westside Lobby, far away
Where I can do what I want, and I can say what I want to say
Take me to the Westside Lobby, that's where I want to go
Where I can do what I want, and it's the only place I know
Take me to the Westside Lobby, far away
Where I can do what I want, and I can say what I want to say
Take me to the Westside Lobby, that's where I want to go
Where I can do what I want, and it's the only place I know

You were in a band, but it never really worked out
Even if it did, they'd be calling you a sellout
I wish we were kids so that we could all just pretend, we're friends

Take me to the Westside Lobby, far away
Where I can do what I want, and I can say what I want to say
Take me to the Westside Lobby, that's where I want to go
Where I can do what I want, and it's the only place I know

Sponzor: www.srovnavac.cz - vyberte si pojištění online!