

Big Man

Tony Banks

The hot seat's vacant cos he gave up the reins
He's kissed his title goodbye run far away
He's gone to ground in some hole - I don't know where
All I know is somehow that I'm big man up here

I don't need your worship
Just need a sacrifice each day
No need to worry
Just want to help in every way

I just don't know what all these levers are for Well I don't know it but I'm reasonably sure
I've got a red light warning - I don't know why
Maybe it will go away if I close my eyes

I don't need your worship
Just need a sacrifice each day
No need to worry
Just want to help in every way
Help every day
In every way

I don't know what's come over me
I'm really feeling rather strange

I got no time for wisdom cos I'm the fool
I got no time for those who won't obey my rules
Some day I won't be teacher - I don't know when Ha but I'm gonna please myself until then

I don't need your worship
Just need a sacrifice each day
No need to worry
Just want to help in every way
Help every day
In every way

Don't need your worship
Just need a sacrifice each day
No need to worry
Just want to help in every way
Help every day
In every way
