

Fun to Be Fooled

Tony Bennett

Fools rush in to begin new love affairs,
But tonight, tonight, my dear, who cares?

Fun to be fooled, fun to pretend,
Fun to believe love is unending.
Thought I was done,
Still, it is fun being fooled again.

Nice when you tell all that you feel;
Nice to be told this is the real thing;
Fun to be kissed, fun to exist,
To be fooled again.

Cause it's that Old, that Old Devil Moon
having his fling once more;
Selling me spring once more;
I'm afraid love is king once more
Yes, it's fun to be fooled and it's fun to pretend
This little dream won't end.

Fun to be fooled, fun to pretend
This little dream won't end.
