I Concentrate on You

Tony Bennett

And so when wise men say to me That love's young dream never comes true To prove that even wise men can be wrong I concentrate on you I concentrate and concentrate

Whenever skies look grey to me And trouble begins to brew Whenever the winter winds Become too strong I concentrate on you

When fortune cries, "Nay, nay" to me And people declare "You're through" Whenever the blues become my only song I concentrate on you

On your smile so sweet so tender When at first my kiss you decline And that look in your eyes When you surrender And once again our arms intertwine

And so when wise men say to me That love's young dream never comes true To prove that even wise men can be wrong I concentrate on you. I concentrate, and concentrate on you.
