Tender Is the Night

Tony Bennett

Tender is the night So tender is the night There's no one in the world Except the two of us

Should tomorrow
Find us disenchanted
We have shared a love
That few have known

Summers by the sea A sailboat in Capri These memories shall be Our very own

Even though our dreams may vanish With the morning light
We loved once in splendour
How tender, how tender the night

Even though our dreams may vanish With the morning light
We loved once in splendour
How tender, how tender the night
