

Walk in the Country

Tony Bennett

I took a walk in the country
To concentrate on you
I took a walk in the country
To recapture an old dream or two

From high on a hill
I gazed on the scene below
And wondered if I would know
Another day like long ago

When we strolled along through the meadow
Too much in love for words
We startled a lark and you said
"Oh, my heart has wings just like that bird"

And there on the hill
That day as I gazed below
A lark flew to me and so
I went on my way through the country feeling at ease
And my heart was as light as the larks whistling in the trees

And there on the hill
That day as I gazed below
A lark flew to me and so
I went on my way through the country feeling at ease
And my heart was as light as the larks whistling in the trees
