

Here Comes the Spring

Tony Orlando & Dawn

So I spoke with the sun
And conferred with the breeze
Wondering where he had gone
He would do as you please
Aside the sun and the breeze
Leaving me with the dawn
Thinking of memories

I lived with the lie
Rather than face my sorrow
Young men on the fly
Rather than face tomorrow
I've always had a way with drifters baby
You never had a love so good
I never gave a thought to a lifetime
But at least I expected a season

Now here comes the spring
And my world wants to rise and shine
Now here comes my heart
And my heart wants to know what's mine
All for a brighter time
So I spoke with the sun
And conferred with the breeze
Wondering where he had gone
They said do as you please
Aside the sun and the breeze
Letting me run the dawn
Thinking of memories

Now I'm on my own
Thinking of all those strangers
But I'm not alone
Life is just full of changes
I'll always have a way with drifters baby
I'm caught up in a love to keep
I never gave a thought to a lifetime
But at least I expected a season

Now here comes the spring
And my world wants to rise and shine
Now here comes my heart
And my heart wants to know what's mine
All for a brighter time
So I spoke with the sun
And conferred with the breeze
Wondering where he had gone
They said do as you please
Aside the sun and the breeze
Letting me run the dawn
