

Hopeless (feat. The Word Alive)

Too Close To Touch

Sleep through the sound of the same drum
Like we're both numb till we're withering away
But decay is a problem
That we welcome to the home we made
Eyes are grey together
Drain the color in the ashtray
On the bedside table
By the bed in which we lay

Show me something
That I mean anything to you
But you say nothing
Knowing I can't admit the truth

I'm hopeless
I talk to myself but my heart won't listen
Hopeless
Begging for the help that we know won't fix it
I'm hopeless
I talk to myself but my heart won't listen
Hopeless
Begging for the help that we know won't fix it

I'm tired of the way that I'm feeling
It's never ending, but I can't let you go
Fear for my heart I'm not healing
And it's deceiving how alone this home's become
When I think about the memories I cling to
What we could have been
When I think about the way that you "love" me
You never even let me in

Show me something
That I mean anything to you
But you say nothing
Knowing I can't admit the truth

I'm hopeless
I talk to myself but my heart won't listen
Hopeless
Begging for the help that we know won't fix it
I'm hopeless
I talk to myself but my heart won't listen
Hopeless
Begging for the help that we know won't fix it

If there's hope to hold onto
Show me something
'Cause this is when I needed you
But you say nothing
But you say nothing
Is this the end, I'm ready when
When you're ready to let me go

I'm hopeless
I talk to myself but my heart won't listen
Hopeless

Begging for the help that we know won't fix it
I'm hopeless
I talk to myself but my heart won't listen
Hopeless
Begging for the help that we know won't fix it
