

OK Fine Whatever

Tops

In the right dress
Head tilted, looking back
Tiffany's best
Lights up with a flash
Hand is on your shoulder
Handing you the world
World that's getting colder
I think I used to know her

The very last song holding it together
It's alright to long, okay, fine, whatever
You are what you want, the path that you run
(The path that you run) Forever 'til it's done

In a nice place
Never know what to say
Don't know who you are
With his arms around your waist
Dresses hanging on the line
Empty promises in your pocket
You say you're doing fine
I think I read about it

The very last song holding it together
It's alright to long, okay, fine, whatever
You are what you want, the path that you run
(The path that you run) Forever 'til it's done

Watch it go by, want to make it better
It's alright to cry, okay, fine, whatever
You are what you want, the path that you run
(The path that you run) Forever till it's done

In the right dress
Head tilted, looking back
Tiffany's best
Lights up with a flash

The very last song holding it together
It's alright to long, okay, fine, whatever
You are what you want, the path that you run
(The path that you run) Forever 'til it's done

The path that you run (The path that you run)
Forever 'til it's done
