

Focus

Tor Miller

These days I find it so hard just to focus
I'm reaching out for something that just don't exist
Millions of photos of models and Gold Coasts and artists
You slide down a sinkhole and then you forget where you started

A child falls through a trampoline
Alt right, bar fight, Lime Lamborghini
The prettiest girl that I've never seen
In real life, wearing a floral bikini

I could love you
But I'm all over the place
I could love you
But I'm all over the place

These days I find it too hard just to focus
It's harder and harder to get myself out of bed
And when I start to think about you I reach out for my phone instead
Cause we can always be together then

A child falls through a trampoline
Alt right, bar fight, Lime Lamborghini
The prettiest girl that I've never seen
In real life, wearing a floral bikini

I could love you
But I'm all over the place
I could love you
But I'm all over the place
I could love you
But I'm all over the place
I could love you
But I'm all over the place

I was so caught up in my own shit
Never thought about how it might feel
To be so caught up in a moment
And never wonder whether it was real
I was so caught up in my own shit
Never thought about how it might feel
To be so caught up in a moment
And never wonder whether it was real
I was so caught up in my own shit
Never thought about how it might feel

These days I find it so hard just to focus
