

Stop The World

Tor Miller

We both had it coming, had the same beat
Her mountain of pressure, and a rising of heat
And for the slightest moment I felt complete
With the world
Your head was resting in my trembling arms
And right then and there that nothing could harm
Me and my girl

But it all came crashing down
With a blood stain on your mother's couch
She's a good Christian woman
But got plenty of doubts about
You and me

And if that's my greatest fear
Stop the world, I'll jump off right here
They say it's worse with every year
Stop the world, I'll jump off right here

Well you and I both know to get a bit wild
Sometimes I yell at you like you were a little child
I can feel you slipping from my hold
And the harder I grasp, the more you want to let go
I can't help myself, no

Cause it all came crashing down
When Sunday rolled around
Her feeling with no base
Had me screaming in your face
That she'd leave me for one of these clowns

And if that's my greatest fear
Stop the world, I'll jump off right here
They say it's worse with every year
Stop the world, I'll jump off right here

Don't want to knock down your door
For a moment that does not exist, no more

That simply time, that I hold so dear
Stop the world I'll jump off right here

Stop the world, I'll jump off right here
Stop the world, I'll jump off right here
Right here, right here
Stop the world, I'll jump off right here
Stop the world