

All Good Things

Tora Tora

Dreamer's nightlife chasing daylight
Somewhere down white line
Out on the open road memories as we go
Where will we end up tonight
Somewhere a broken heart is crying
I won't let the damage win
Riding around another carousal
When will this madness end
Once in while
You need to slow down and wait patiently
For all good things
Once in while
You need to slow down and wait patiently
For all good things to come

Dancing moonlight creeping sunlight
Sharing all the big sky
In the cover of clouds, a song rings out
Melody's burning the home fires
Wheels up from an infinite runway
Sky walking many a mile
Ten thousand more to go
Before I am homeward bound
Once in while
You need to slow down and wait patiently
For all good things
Once in while
You need to slow down and wait patiently
For all good things

All the skylines they're all left behind
As I lift into a red-eye
No secrets exposed
I keep the conversations closed
I respectfully recline
Drift away to destination unknown
Shut down for a little while
Meet me with your open arms
At touchdown at the end of the line
Once in while
You need to slow down and wait patiently
For all good things
Once in while
You need to slow down and wait patiently
For all good things to come to come
Once in while
You need to slow down and wait patiently
For all good things
Once in while
You need to slow down and wait patiently
For all good things to come

Sing along the traveler's song
Everywhere I go make it feel like home
Sing along the traveler's song
Everywhere I go make it feel like home
Sing along the traveler's song

Everywhere I go make it feel like home
Sing along the traveler's song
Everywhere I go make it feel like home
