We've met a few times, 3 or 4 times, they all went by much too fast Eyes were so locked, led to small talk, wanting each moment to last I can do this, tried to focus, but it's so hard for me to see past Your beauty, yeah mostly, all I could get out was a laugh

There are no words to say whenever you are near I try to be myself but she just disappears I'm nothing like those other girls, I am so weird Cause I don't bite my lip, or bat my eyes When you walk by, when you walk by

You're a star and everyone knows, maybe thats why I can never get clo se

I can barely remember most of what was said during our last Conversation, overthinkin', still so hard for me to see past Your beauty, call me crazy but maybe you'd like get to know me, baby

There are no words to say whenever you are near I try to be myself but she just disappears
But boy I promise you will see that I'm sincere Hope I'll get another try
When you walk by, when you walk by

I'm not very flirtatious
I'm not gonna blow kisses
I don't bat my eyelashes
I'm not very flirtatious
I'm not gonna blow kisses
I don't bat my eyelashes
I have nothing to lose, so how could it go wrong
But it's so much easier to sing it in a song
