

Lily Of The Valley

Touch of Eternity

The wind blows
Through my mind
It Empties, it refreshens

I sleep under
A lily of the valley
So white, so innocent

Crowned by the stars
Embraced by the stars
Lost in my thoughts
In grief I walk
But the lily of the valley
Will free me from my search

I awake
From my sleep
Old pines guard me

The sweet poison
Runs through my veins
It fills me, it frees me

Crowned by the stars
Embraced by the stars
Lost in my thoughts
In grief I walk
But the lily of the valley
Will free me from my search

By the nightfall
When frost eats the scene
The scent tempts me
With the beauty
Brighter than ever seen

Crowned by the stars
Embraced by the stars
Lost in my thoughts
In grief I walk
But the lily of the valley
Will free me from my search

One last time I close my eyes
And a tear paints the ground in silver
The lily of the valley dances with the wind
So white, so innocent..
