

Time's Fleeing Days

Touch of Eternity

I vanished in the midnight wind, beneath silver glare of hallowed moon

Pale mistress Death calmly grinned, and firmly held my hand to o soon

Into the night, I quickly flew, as deep despair silently grew
Through these dusky forest flowing so I left my life behind

I feel my weakened strength regress, as I choke on my every breath

All I feel is cold inside, the cold that just won't let me die
In the groves, these dreadful woods, I quietly left my final grove an

Silent is the land ahead, serene the dark waters

And now these silent lands, my home
As whistling wind in moonlight plays
Forever will my spirit roam
While quickly pass time's fleeing days
And now forgotten and all alone
As alone pines in silence stand
Forever these dusks my home
Without a noise pass time's fleeing days

Someday you'll walk this misty lane
Far past the clouds of Autumn skies
One day it will be you struggling
In the night sky, unknown beauty
Someday you'll walk this misty lane
Beneath the clouds of Autumn skies

And now these silent lands, my home
As whistling wind in moonlight plays
Forever will my spirit roam
While quickly pass time's fleeing days
And now forgotten and all alone
As alone pines in silence stand
Forever these dusks my home
Without a noise pass time's fleeing days
