

Altitude

Touché Amoré

I've reached the summit
To get as close to the edge
To gain some perspective
With my arms outstretched

Up all night and late to wake
I swear there's nothing new
Lie in wait to validate
I swear I feel it too
Times like this I ask myself
Who's convincing who
The air is thin, I can hardly breathe
As I take in the view

I start to descend
And as I find my balance
I present confident
And that's the challenge

Up all night and late to wake
I swear there's nothing new
Lie in wait to validate
I swear I feel it too
Times like this I ask myself
Who's convincing who
The air is thin, I can hardly breathe
As I take in the view

I spiral in a straight line
Like some clever reaction
I didn't know how I feel
Was I impressed that it happened
I spiral in a straight line
Like some clever reaction
I didn't know how I feel
Was I impressed that it happened

Up all night and late to wake
I swear there's nothing new
Lie in wait to validate
I swear I feel it too
Times like this I ask myself
Who's convincing who
The air is thin, I can hardly breathe
As I take in the view

I spiral in a straight line
Was I impressed that it happened
I spiral in a straight line
Was I impressed that it happened