

Four Elements

Tove Styrke

Just like water I'll run like the river flows
Your search won't find me
I'm hiding in the waves
I'm like fire but my ashes are colorful
You search, I'm dancing
Flames won't lock me in

I could hold you like this
Let you hear and make you see
When summer mornings kiss the breeze
We will be who we want to be
I'll just be me

Earth is moving, I'm watching the stars collide
Moonlight shadows, cities with no names
I'm not waiting
I'm not wasting lies tonight
Wind keeps me sailing
Flames won't lock me in

I could hold you like this
Let you hear and make you see
When summer mornings kiss the breeze
We will be who we want to be
I'll just be me

When the wind is blowing you will see
I can make you feel it naturally
The air tonight will make you breathe
The air tonight will make you breathe

When the wind is blowing you will see
I can make you feel it naturally
The air tonight will make you breathe
The air tonight will make you breathe
