

Cybernetic War

Toxic Holocaust

We lost before the start
Things are getting out of hand
Delete the code while you even have the chance
A coming sign of what's in store
A future look into the past
Doomed when the memory can't forget

World War III has just begun
Through our network ties
You really never should have let them take control
The power grid is the new front line
In a nuclear age
This cybernetic war is pushing on and on

Its the fate of the world that we gave up
Now its time for the plan to take its toll

Its been coming for some time
A thermonuclear age
In a cybernetic war
They are the masters, we are the slaves

Launch commands and mega-volts
From a crystalline brain
No use for mankind in this world
Software that writes itself
No more need for your love
Obsolete by the form of 1s and 0's

Time to pay
