

Devil In The Mirror

Toxik

The poison's alive
In the veins of believers, non-believers alike
One and all

You all seem the same
You may have been pure once but now you are stained
And there's not one person here, that'll ever be saved
By Jesus

Take a look in the mirror (take a look in the mirror, take a look in the mirror)
You're everything that you hate and you fear
It's funny
The way it gets done

They told you you were somebody, but you're really no one
Oh you poor misguided children
What have you become?
For Jesus

Self-loathing to an extreme
Eclipsing all hope and killing your dreams
Composers of half truths and alibis
Merchants of self-deception who criticize

Oh!

You are the devil in the mirror
You are the devil in the mirror

Looking for meaning in the meaningless
What seemed like everything is now seeming less
Icon makers, god soothsayers, making prisons for lost-ways
I'm not sure if I confess or I di-gress!

You are the devil in the mirror
You are the devil in the mirror
