

Go

Tracey Thorn

From time to time I miss, your little body next to mine
I see the shape upon the pillow that you used to make
Oh but that was then and that can't come again
I resign myself to time and what's no longer mine

This won't make sense to you now, I won't bore you with this now
Pack your bags and smile, it will only be a little while
I know you have to go, but don't forget, no
I know you have to go

You must outgrow it all
Those marks up on the wall
You must outgrow it all
And you should leave it all behind
And I should never mind
You leaving me behind, oh
This is what it all was for
To wave you out the door
It's what my love was for
And I know you have to go
But don't forget no
I know you have to go

This won't make sense to you now, I won't bore you with this now
Pack your bags and smile, it will only be a little while
It will only be a little while
It will only be a little while
It will only be a little while
