

Forever

Trampled by Turtles

There's moonbeams in your elbows
And rivers in your hair
And I wanna see you forever baby
Forever

Don't take me back in time now
There's nothing for me there
I wanna see you forever baby
Forever

The weary sky above
The smell of a summer highway
The ancient curse of love
Well sometimes it comes my way

My heart is rusty metal
But I'm pretty sure it's there
And I wanna see you forever baby
Forever

Evergreen and lonely
There's nothing I can't bear
Oh but I wanna see you forever baby
Forever

I'm hawk-eyed in the morning
You're a poem in the air
Oh and I wanna see you forever baby
Forever

The yellow axis runs
In and out of a plain old driveway
Sometimes trouble comes
And sometimes it comes my way

The big wide world around us
There's nothing for me there
If I can't see you forever baby
Forever
