

Heart Like a Whirlwind

Transatlantic

Another frequent flyer, another tube gone into solid state
A pay and flee supplier, set out to prove that it is not too late

Just another potential trying
Look around and you might be flying now

All along a secret song was playing in my mind
Like a window to another world
It's hard to leave the storm
When it's still raining deep inside
And your heart is like a whirlwind
Your heart is like a whirlwind
Spinning through the sky

Today's another day, so make it yours, don't wish the time away
You've got your song to sing, so make it happen and break away

The morning brings a new beginning
Don't drag your wheels, gotta keep them spinning
Another day you could be winning now

All along a secret song was playing in my mind
Like a window to another world
It's hard to leave the storm
When it's still raining deep inside
And your heart is like a whirlwind
Yeah, your heart is like a whirlwind
Raging through the sky

Far and away, I thought I'd be closer now
The place of knowing is far and away from me
Maybe someday when all the wind dies down
Love will come calling but it's far and away from me
Now...
