

Rest To Get Better

Transit

I haven't slept in forever
I only rest to get better
I'm up every 3 hours or so
With the same awful thoughts that keep me in my place to Tired to act like make sense of my days

Maybe, maybe I'll find piece
Maybe, maybe between the cold shifts
Maybe, maybe that's all I need
Maybe, maybe I'll get some sleep

I haven't slept in forever
I only rest to get better
And dream up on the west to escape
And when I'm wide awake for war
Seems it's too more slowly like
Long goodbye and the lonely sound of alarms

You think you get honest, you only got meaner
You think it gets better but you only break cleaner
You're a liar and make what you need her
You think it gets better, you only get break cleaner

Maybe, maybe I'll find piece
Maybe, maybe between the cold shifts
Maybe, maybe that's all I need
Maybe, maybe I'll get some sleep

I haven't slept in forever
I only rest to get better
And dream up on the west to escape
And when I'm wide awake for war
Seems it's too more slowly like
Long goodbye and the lonely sound of alarms

I try everything
Long goodbye and the lonely sound of alarms
You don't remember
That we're never scared from the lonely sound of alarms

Maybe, maybe it was one summer when I feel free
Maybe, maybe we were seventeen and sixteen
Maybe, maybe you don't remember me
Maybe, maybe you don't remember

Why to wait if world move slowly
I never escape from the lonely Heaven

I haven't slept in forever
I only rest to get better
And dream up on the west to escape
And when I'm wide awake for war
Seems it's too more slowly like
Long goodbye and the lonely sound of alarms

I try everything
Long goodbye and the lonely sound of alarms

You don't remember
Long goodbye and the lonely sound of alarms
And never escape from the lonely sound of alarms
