

Everything Everything

Transviolet

Silver tears in the golden sunlight
Emerald leaves on a sapphire blue sky
And you're part of the artwork
So wipe your tears little Madonna

Take the cruel world off of your shoulders
The weight is nobody's to hold on to

Everything everything you need
All right here waiting
Everything everything everything you need
All right here waiting
When you go
Bring it back
Take it all apart
Make it last forever cause it's
Everything everything you need
All right here waiting

You were young, always reaching for it
Running wild in your shameless glory
It's a vast melodrama
So wipe your tears little Madonna

Take the cruel world off of your shoulders
The weight is nobody's to hold on to

Everything everything you need
All right here waiting
Everything everything everything you need
All right here waiting
When you go
Bring it back
Take it all apart
Make it last forever cause it's
Everything everything you need
All right here waiting

Right here
Right here
Right here

Everything everything you need
All right here waiting
Everything everything everything you need
All right here waiting
When you go
Bring it back
Take it all apart
Make it last forever cause it's
Everything everything you need
All right here waiting