

It's Over

Trapt

I was an addict, addict for such a painful love
Sirens blazing, blazing the alarm is going off
Call me crazy, crazy you're not the one I want
And all those feelings, feelings well now they're gone
And I got my reasons why we're wrong, you won't be stringing me along anymore
You won't be stringing me along, I am walking out that door

It's over, it's over, it's over now
You won't let walk what you can't have
It's over, it's over, I can't allow
You to play me for a fool like that

Why are you crying, crying those tears are never real
Your eyes are lying, denying the way you say you feel
I see right through you, to you I've got the clearest view
If it's so hard for you to choose then let me cut that cord for you
If it's so hard for you to choose then come on and cut me loose

It's over, it's over, it's over now
You won't let walk what you can't have
It's over, it's over, I can't allow
You to play me for a fool like that
It's over, it's over, cause your two faces
Are playing both sides of the rant
When you come down you watch as the one
Who really wanted you works out

No need to panic, panic, you knew this day would come
I was an addict, addict for such a painful love
You got me manic, manic to pressed and now I'm done
Oh I used you like a drug and now I know I've had enough
You won't be stringing me along, I am walking out that door

It's over, it's over, it's over now
You won't let walk what you can't have
It's over, it's over, I can't allow
You to play me for a fool like that
It's over, it's over, cause your two faces
Are playing both sides of the rant
When you come down you watch as the one
Who really wanted you works out
It's over, it's over, it's over now
