

Even Now

Travis Cottrell

You say, come ye weary, come and find your rest
In the arms of Mercy, in the One who knows you best
You are good, You are good
Let my heart remember this

Even now, You keep Your promise
Even now, Your heart is kindness
In the dark, I shall not fear
For You are on my side in battle
God, my strength, my shield forever
Where my hope is found
And I will praise You even now!

You say, come, ye broken, bring your burdens here
There's a healing fountain that is flowing deep and clear
'Cause You are good, You are good
My deliverance is near!

Even now, You keep Your promise
Even now, Your heart is kindness
In the dark, I shall not fear
For You are on my side in battle
God, my strength, my shield forever
Where my hope is found
And I will praise You even now!

And in the pain, I will sing
Every tear, an offering
To my God, to my King
Who's redeeming everything!

Even now, You keep Your promise
Even now, Your heart is kindness
In the dark, I shall not fear
For You are on my side in battle
God, my strength, my shield forever
Where my hope is found
On this broken holy ground
I will praise You even now!
