

Hope's Anthem

Travis Cottrell

He's awakening the hope in me
By calling forth my destiny
He's breathing life into my soul
I will thirst for Him, and him alone
He has come like the rain
That showers on the barren plain
So my heart and tongue confess
Jesus Christ, the hope of man

My hope is in you, God
I am steadfast, I will not be moved
I'm anchored, never shaken
All my hope is in you

He's awakening the hope in me
By calling forth my destiny
He's breathing life into my soul
I will thirst for Him, and him alone
He has come like the rain
That showers on the barren plain
So my heart and tongue confess
Jesus Christ, the hope of man

My hope is in you, God
I am steadfast, I will not be moved
I'm anchored, never shaken
All my hope is in you

My hope is in you, God
I am steadfast, I will not be moved
I'm anchored, never shaken
All my hope is in you

[illegible]

Let hope arise
Let hope arise

My hope is in you, God
I am steadfast, I will not be moved
I'm anchored, never shaken
All my hope is in you
