

Magic

Treat

Turn off the lights, here we go again
Just take me places where I've never been
I'm wide awake in a dream so true
To hear the sound of you
I took a train to my heart and soul
A thousand miles for a miracle
I'm back for health and back for life
I can see it in your eyes

I feel some kind of panic, but I can't live without it
It hurts but I guess we must be making magic
And as long as I'm breathing, I know you'll be waiting
I'll be safe in your arms where I can feel and fight it
Yes and I guess we must be making magic
Another day, another curtain call
Don't want to go, don't want to leave at all
And if it fades like a memory
Tonight you belong to me

I feel some kind of panic, but I can't live without it
It hurts but I guess we must be making magic

And as long as I'm breathing, I know you'll be waiting
I'll be safe in your arms where I can feel and fight it
Yes and I guess we must be making magic

I feel some kind of panic, but I can't live without it
It hurts but I guess we must be making magic
And as long as I'm breathing, I know you'll be waiting
I'll be safe in your arms where I can feel and fight it
I feel some kind of panic, but I can't live without it
It hurts but I guess we must be making magic
And as long as I'm breathing, I know you'll be waiting
I'll be safe in your arms where I can feel and fight it
Yes and I guess we must be making magic
I guess we must be making magic
I guess we must be making magic
Just you and me
