

Save Yourself

Treat

Born in a blue town, raised on the rye
Working til sundown, living a lie
Searching a good time, with nowhere in sight
Heartache to heartache, still up for a fight

I remember the day, when I first heard you say
I've been waiting so long to be loved
To have the world in my hands, where the feelings command
I'll help you pray

Save yourself
Your heart is burning
Save yourself
The wheels are turning
Save yourself
Your heart is burning
Save yourself

Life ain't that easy as it seems
When you get older, you'll know what I mean
Some will surrender and the fountain will dry
But you will be stronger and reach for the sky

I remember the day, when I first heard you say
I've been waiting so long to be loved
To have the world in my hands, where the feelings command
I'll help you pray

Save yourself
Your heart is burning
Save yourself
The wheels are turning
Save yourself
Your heart is burning
Save yourself

I remember the day, when I first heard you say
I've been waiting so long to be loved
To have the world in my hands, where the feelings command
I'll help you pray

Save yourself
Your heart is burning
Save yourself
The wheels are turning
Save yourself
Your heart is burning
Save yourself
