

A Million Tears

Trees Of Eternity

A million things
I want to say
But I shield my face
And turn away
Swallowing my words
Silenced by shame

A million tears
I want to cry
But I shield my face
And dry my eyes
Swallowing my hurt
Breaking inside

Please stay here with me
Just hold me as I bleed myself dry
See straight into me
Just look beyond the tears in my eyes

A million things
Wish you would say
Even if I fall
That you will stay
And none of my flaws
Can turn you away

Please stay here with me
Just hold me as I bleed myself dry
See straight into me
Just look beyond the fear in my eyes

Like a circle around me
As the prison of this boundary
I need a storm to break it down
Shield your eyes from the fire light
But please don't turn away from my side
I am not that - which I fight

Every tear I cry
Burns away through my eyes
Where I can see through my lies

Every tear I cry
Makes trails in the ice
Where I am warm inside

See straight into me
Just look beyond the tears in my eyes
Please stay here with me
Just hold me as I bleed myself dry

See straight into me
Just look beyond the tears in my eyes
Please stay here with me
Just hold me as I bleed myself dry

See straight into me

Just look beyond the tears in my eyes
