Desolation

Tremonti

Open the sky, show me more
For I've never seen it before, no
Darkness, these walls closing in
Trapped in this moment again, no

And I lay my body down, oh
Could be what's lost is never found, oh no
Could be I've squandered my last chance
To start again
To start again

Open the sky, take me in
I face desolation again, no
Sift through remains of decay
Corrosion, the strength drips away, no

And I lay my body down, oh
Could be what's lost is never found, oh no
Could be I've squandered my last chance
To start again
To start again

Can we start again?!

And I lay my body down, oh
Could be what's lost is never found, oh no
Could be I've squandered my last chance
And oh, yeah, yeah
You know, yeah...!

Start again
Start again
